Goal Set At $45,471

Midland United Fund Drive Opens

FUND DRIVE LAUNCHED. The kickoff meeting of the United Fund campaign of the Midland Area Charities was held Monday night at Lincoln High School where P. K. O'Hara of Industry, center, construction division chairman, presented Stephen M. Trbovich of Midland, campaign chairman, with a $165 check from the Brown Brothers Contractors, Inc., of Downingtown, Pa., a contractor at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. Others left to right are Richard Fusco of Aliquippa, acting executive director of the United Funds of Beaver County; Karl Grau of Beaver Falls, assistant executive director, and Raymond Wilding of Industry, one of the Midland campaign co-chairmen.

About 50 attended the Midland area's United Fund campaign kickoff meeting Monday night in the Music Forum of Lincoln High School. The goal is $45,471—the same as last year.

Stephen M. Trbovich, campaign chairman, presided and said the campaign will cover every home, business establishment and worker in the plants.

HE SAID the campaign will emphasize with the last 5 per cent of the goal, meeting the quotas set for the retail division and the residential solicitation.

During the campaign, which ends Nov. 5, there will be report meetings every Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the Music Forum.

He said the solicitation will start next week at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and the house-to-house canvass will begin shortly afterwards.

Trbovich introduced Richard Fusco of Aliquippa, acting executive director of the United Funds of Beaver County, who in turn introduced Karl Grau of Beaver Falls, assistant executive director.

GRAU screened a film, "The Volunteer," and spoke briefly on the United Fund, explaining the funds aid 42 agencies. He also told of his recent visits to an orphan's home and to the county's retarded children's center.

Trbovich also introduced various campaign chairmen and some workers' kits were distributed.

Mrs. Ruth Haggerty, women's house-to-house chairman, reported that several clubs and organizations will furnish volunteers for the residential solicitation.

THE ORGANIZATIONS include the Negro Women's Civic Club, the Junior Women's Club, the Lioness Club, adult leaders of the Midland Hot Stove League and leaders of the Midland Boy Scout and Girl Scouts and members of the Catholic Daughters of America. Chairmen will be announced later.

The home solicitation will be held after the mill solicitation to give millworkers time to display United Fund stickers so that homes will not be asked twice to give.

The Midland campaign achieved 93 per cent of its goal last year.

Fire Pumper To Be Bought For $30,000

Council Indicates Belief Income Tax To Provide Funds

Amid a strongly-implied but unspoken hint that Council expects the city income tax to remain in effect at least through late 1963, the members took the first steps Monday night looking toward purchase of a new $30,000 pumper for the fire department and a combination front-end loader and backhoe for the street department estimated to cost $6,000 to $8,000.

Dusting off another report that was shelved in mid-August when threatened court action made the future of the income tax uncertain after the Nov. 6 election, Council also scheduled an investigation of the city's financial status to find if it would permit a general pay increase and fringe benefits for municipal employees.

Both actions were taken in the apparent belief that the city's contemplated action in the 7th District Court of Appeals will forestall a vote next month on the income tax question and the revenue source, therefore, will continue uninterrupted at least until the next general election a year away.

The proposal to reconsider the tabled report recommending pay boosts and fringe benefits was first to come onto the floor.

The report was prepared by a special Council committee for presentation Aug. 21, but was deferred after Trades and Labor Council initiated Common Pleas Court action to force a vote on the income tax question.

It called for raises averaging $30 a month for workers in the fire, police, street and incinerator departments.

Councilman Edward Massey, a member of the committee that drafted the report, made a motion last night to instruct the ordinance committee to investigate the possibility of granting the pay boosts and bring in legislation authorizing them if its decision was favorable.

He also moved for legislation authorizing a call for bids on a life and hospital insurance plan for all employees.

Under the plan proposed by

To Require 6 Months Legislation Due On Lighting Plan

First enabling legislation probably will be presented to Council at its session Oct. 15 for a new street lighting system in the downtown shopping district, financed by owners of business property, that will raise the volume of illumination more than 700 per cent.

Council agreed to early action on the program Monday night after a petition for the improvement was presented by a 10-man committee representing the East Liverpool Merchants Association.

UNDER THE proposal, owners of business property will pay about $7,000 a year as an additional assessment on their real estate taxes — making up the difference between the cost of the present lights and the expense of the new system.

About 58 new lights will be installed, according to Ralph Finley, ELMA chairman, who acted as spokesman. The present incandescent fixtures each provide 6,000 lumens of illumination. The new four - light fluorescent fixtures, similar to a type demonstrated in the business district nearly two years ago, will provide 43,600 lumens each.

To clear the way for the new system, Council will enact legislation to assess the owners of the property on a foot-frontage basis, along with an ordinance authorizing the administration to advertise for bids on the new fixtures. Although the Ohio Power Co. is the only concern which could bid, state law still requires the procedure of calling for sealed offers.

SOLICITOR Joseph W. Cooper advised Council he expects to have the enabling legislation ready for the next session. W. E. Williams, district manager of the utility, estimated six to eight months will be required for completion of the installation, including two months that will be needed for Council's legislative action.

Chester Council To Eye Flat Rate Plan For Water

Chester Council is slated to take under consideration Wednesday a proposed flat rate system of water charges for the city, replacing the present part meter, part flat rate system.

The proposed rates — $4 a quarter for each home plus 75 cents for each person in a home up to six persons — would provide sufficient revenue to meet the projected needs of the water department, according to a survey prepared by the Council water committee, headed by Councilman Wayne Hutton.

At present, only about a third of the city's water customers are metered, the rest paying a flat rate of $3.78 for a home housing one person, $4.56 for two, $5.60 for three and $7.15 for four or more.

The survey recommends the flat rate plan because it would cost the water department between $25,000 and $50,000 to install the some 700 necessary new meters.

The survey indicates the meters, which would have to be paid for in two years, would cost about $25,000 and installation and between $5,000 and $25,000.

Only about 30 per cent of the homes in Chester now have workable meters, the report points out.

The survey shows the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. is the largest water consumer with an annual bill of $7,331. Next is the city of Chester, $3,600. T.K. Roofing Co., $3,432; Harker Pottery Co., $1,548; Goddard Bakers, Inc.,

Rusk Seeks Latin Curbs Against Fidel

U.S. Slated To Ask Ministers Meeting For Action On Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to urge Latin American foreign ministers today to back tough new economic and political measures aimed at isolating and weakening Cuba.

Rusk obviously would also like a general endorsement of U.S. warnings to Fidel Castro's Soviet-backed regime that it faces U.S. military action if it threatens or uses force against any U.S. or inter-American interests.

Washington officials were not sure how far other American governments would want to go on this issue.

The 20-nation inter-American foreign ministers conference with Rusk as chairman will continue for two days behind closed doors. President Kennedy arranged a luncheon for the delegation chiefs and is expected to set forth his

Gov. Barnett Faces Court For Citation

President Blamed In Defiant Talk By Mississippi Leader

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The deadline for Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett to purge himself of federal contempt of court charges neared today, after the still-defiant governor hurled a new verbal blast at President Kennedy.

In a television speech, Barnett put blame for violence that has accompanied desegregation of the University of Mississippi "directly with the President of the United States."

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here gave Barnett until 11 a.m. today to show that he intends to comply with its orders that made James H. Meredith the first known member of his race to attend the 114-year-old state university.

Barnett, convicted last Friday of civil contempt, faced imprisonment and a $10,000 daily fine, unless he purged himself by the deadline.

U.S. Gov. Paul Johnson, convicted of similar contempt the following day, faced a $5,000 daily fine if he did not act to purge himself by the same deadline.

In his speech, carried nationally over the Columbia Broadcasting System Monday night, Barnett blamed "reckless, trigger-happy federal marshals" for being "directly responsible for the violence" at Ole Miss.

Eight of the appeals court's nine members, sitting en banc, convicted Barnett. The governor did not appear. Attorneys for the state were refused permission to participate in the case.

The eight judges were unanimous in finding Barnett guilty, although three dissented from the part of the sentence that levied the fine.

The court defined compliance as (1) ceasing all resistance to desegregation orders by the federal courts and (2) maintaining law and order and cooperating with officers and agents of the courts.

Bill Advanced For Legal Aid In Tax Appeal

After a brief argument, Council gave second reading Monday night, 4-2, to a resolution authorizing Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper to employ special counsel to aid him in filing an appellate court case seeking to forestall a vote on the city income tax at the Nov. 6 general election.

As the split vote will require one more reading to enact the legislation into law, it is expected to be presented for final passage at Council's next regular meeting Oct. 15.

Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray opposed the measure, reiterating the stands they took when it first was presented Sept. 17. Favorable votes were cast by Councilmen Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw, Edward Massey and S. J. Ames Welch. Kenneth C. Berg, another member who supported the bill on first reading, was excused last night.

After the resolution had been read, Sample moved for suspension of the rules and immediate passage, seconded by Willshaw. But the 4-2 vote was one short of the required number, which meant

'Daisy' Threat Eases

Schirra Readies For Space Trip

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Improving weather conditions in Atlantic recovery areas today brightened hopes that astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. will be launched Wednesday on his intended six-orbit around the world mission.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported today that a change in course removed tropical storm Daisy as a threat to the third orbit landing area 200 miles north of Puerto Rico. The agency said there was a possibility the storm could bring cloudy weather to the second orbit drop zone 375 miles south of Bermuda. But it reported the storm would have to move faster than its present 12 miles an hour if it is to bother this area.

Before shifting her 40-mile winds to a more northerly course overnight, Daisy was on a path which would have crossed the third orbit recovery area in the morning.

Conditions appear generally good for a launching, a NASA spokesman reported.

He said the first part of the split countdown on the Atlas spacecraft combination went without a hitch this morning. This included fueling of the Atlas with tons of fuel.

Afterwards Schirra and his backup pilot, Leroy Gordon Cooper, attended an engineering briefing on the mission. On schedule later were additional studies of the flight plan which calls for Schirra to circle the earth six times in 9 hours 11 minutes, the

Officials Of Newell Plant And Possible Buyer Meet Today

Although hope still glimmers, a spokesman for an employee committee said today he feels the situation "is virtually hopeless" in an effort by workers at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. to buy the plant and forestall its threatened liquidation.

Larry Findlay, spokesman for a 15-member employee committee, said the plant management has set a deadline next Monday for the workers to attempt to arrange financing and other details and make a firm step toward purchase of the firm.

However, he said he understands the firm's position, as it must grant sufficient time to liquidators to inventory the plant's equipment and send circulars to prospective purchasers throughout the nation. The company's stockholders already have agreed to

Tense College Town

Fear, Hatred Fill Oxford After Riots At University

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — After dark, a sense of foreboding settles over the little college town.

It creeps through the streets, wet from a half-hearted drizzle and converges on the campus of the University of Mississippi. You can almost touch it in the silence.

It is a mixture of hate and fear and deep anguish, all compounded by the frightening question, "What next?"

There is nothing you can put your finger on. A knot of hard-eyed men gather on a street corner, talking in low tones. They grow silent when you approach them, or when an Army jeep cruises past. The discovery of an arsenal of weapons in the hands of people the Oxonians say are "outsiders." The note of tension in the voice of the proprietor of a cafe when she refuses to open the door to a group of young men peering and rapping on the glass. "I don't know them," she says.

"But I know they are like the ones who caused all the trouble Sunday night."

Two persons died Sunday night, and more than 75 were injured when rioting raged across the gracious, tree-shaded campus of the university.

A pile of telegrams covers a desk in one of the main administration buildings of the university. Each one has much the same anxious message. "Worried about you. Suggest you come home until troubles over." They are addressed to students, and all arrived after the explosion on the campus Sunday night.

The city, and especially the campus, is one large Army camp. Troops guard all the entrances, and they have sealed off the court house square. At night, the soldiers, their helmets and fixed bayonets are etched in black against the white walls of the court house.

12 Arrested As Security Forces Act

Ex-General Taken To Hospital; Cited For Aiding Rioters

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Federal troops arrested more than two dozen persons carrying weapons during the night as they tightened an uneasy security around the University of Mississippi.

The armed troops, wary of the slightest boilup in the bitter segregation dispute, arrested anyone found with any type of weapon.

James H. Meredith, the 29-year-old Negro who is the hub of the state vs. federal government hassle, spent his first night as an Ole Miss student in a residence hall flooded with spotlights.

One man and his son, 14, arrested during the early hours, had a collection that included one rifle and two shotguns, one saber, two hunting knives and ammunition.

The swelling force of federal troops, bayonets fixed and rifles ready, arrested the first woman since the flareup began. She was held overnight when soldiers found a shotgun in her car.

In New Orleans, La., Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett had a date in federal court on a contempt citation, harvested from his vain effort to thwart Meredith's entrance as the 114-year-old university's first knowingly admitted Negro student.

"I call on the President to put a stop to further violence by immediate removal of Meredith and the withdrawal of federal troops and marshals from Mississippi soil," the 64-year-old governor said in a speech telecast across the nation Monday night.

Barnett blamed federal intervention for the weekend segregation

Probe Asked On Violence At 'Ole Miss'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A scheduled investigation into the University of Mississippi's bloody integration controversy may light the screen for a pre-election look at the Democratic party's internal political division.

Monday night Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., ordered an inquiry by the Judiciary Committee of all events "since U.S. marshals and Army troops moved in."

It was evident, however, that Eastland, in acting in response to the emotionally charged atmosphere of his home state, was not at all certain of the acceptance he might gain from Republican committee members for the move.

The Mississippi senator knew that Democratic supporters of President Kennedy's actions in the school crisis would not acquiesce to a performance that seemed aimed at sustaining Gov. Ross Barnett's charges that the federal government had invaded Mississippi to overturn state sovereignty.

Eastland's order for the inquiry could be challenged by other committee members. If it were, he probably would need the support of Republican members to give

Driver Pays $90 In Court For 3 Cases

Convicted Monday on three of four charges filed by police after his arrest Sept. 13, Robert B. Skinner, 1923 Harvey Ave., was fined a total of $90 and costs by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

After an hour - long hearing, Judge Chertoff imposed these penalties: $50 and costs for "resisting or retarding" an officer in the performance of his duties; $25 and costs for reckless driving and $15 and costs for using a noisy muffler. The judge dismissed a fourth affidavit which alleged Skinner's car did not have a rear license plate light.

Skinner, represented by Atty. W. S. Foulks, had pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge and "not guilty" on the other three. Judge Chertoff said he would have imposed a $25 fine on the faulty muffler charge, but was inclined to be lenient because the defendant testified he has since disposed of the car.

Skinner was cited by Patrolman Paul Blevins. The patrolman testified the charge of resisting or retarding an officer grew out of an incident following Skinner's arrest.

Officer Blevins said he allowed Skinner to go to his home following his arrest and then to pick up a friend to accompany him downtown. Skinner, following a cruiser driven by the officer, suddenly halted his car and fled on foot, the patrolman testified. He was taken into custody later. Queried by the court, Skinner said he fled because he was "scared."

In another traffic case yesterday that also required an hour for trial, Mrs. Elsie F. Rohr, 34, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was given a fine of $25 and costs on a charge of failure to yield at least half the highway to another vehicle while passing. The fine was suspended on payment of costs.

Mrs. Rohr was cited early Saturday morning after her auto allegedly struck another car on Lisbon St., then crossed two lawns and hit a house.

Mrs. Rohr pleaded not guilty. She testified the other driver was responsible for the mishap. Judge Chertoff said he convicted her because the damage to the two cars was located in such a way that it could only have been caused by the Rohr auto striking the other.

Mrs. Rohr was represented by Atty. John B. McDonald.

Music Parents To Hold Sales

Plans for a bake sale and rummage sale were outlined at a meeting of the Beaver Local Music Parents Association Monday night at the high school.

The bake sale will be held Oct. 20 at Ogilvie's with Mrs. Genevieve Webber chairman.

Mrs. Eve Montooth and Mrs. Alwyn Purinton will be co-chairmen for the rummage sale Dec. 3-5 at the rear of the City Market building.

It was announced a total of $399 was received in a Tag Day held in East Liverpool in mid-September.

Mrs. Carol Walton, choir director, asked for funds to purchase new music and Rocco DeMart, high school band director, discussed the need for new band uniforms and instruments.

Carl Mansfield reported on the association's new concession stand at the football field.

Thirty-two attended the meeting with Mrs. Irene Mast, president, presiding. Mansfield led devotions.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Thomas Porter and Mrs. Mast. Next meeting is Nov. 5 at 7:30 p. m.

Worker Injured; 2 Children Hurt

Edwin Baker, 36, of New Boston, Ohio, employed by the Collier Construction Co. of Strongsville, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital after he was hit by a utility pole.

Baker suffered a laceration of his left ear requiring surgery. He was admitted at 11:30 a. m. Monday. The pole hit his head in a glancing blow.

The construction company has an office in Chester.

Two other emergency cases, treated Monday evening, involved youngsters with bicycles. Chris Cowan, 6, of R. D. 3, son of Lynn Cowan, received a laceration of the left thigh from the sprocket of a bicycle.

Jane Finley, 7, daughter of Charles Finley of Georgetown, received a laceration of the chin when she fell from a bicycle.

Fire Pumper To Be Bought

Massey's committee, the insurance would be provided for all 161 full-time city employees. It would except elected officials and part-time workers. The city would pay the employees' share of the premiums.

However, the individual workers would be required to pay for coverage for their dependents under the hospital plan. Massey estimated the cost to the city at $1,000 per month.

"The ordinance committee can't bring in legislation until the finance committee determines if money is available," Councilman George E. Willshaw replied. He is chairman of the finance committee.

"But the finance committee is not asleep," Willshaw added. "We thought it necessary to wait until after the close of the third quarter Sept. 30 to study the city's financial condition. We will meet with the auditor Thursday night to make certain of the finances before making a recommendation. We'll know more about it after Thursday night."

Then Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. pointed out law forbids the city borrowing money to grant pay boosts.

In a reference to the tax case, he said: "As long as the money we anticipated for the raises is in the hands of the courts, I can't see how we could entertain legislation for a 4 percent increase. As soon as the money is available, I will join in a movement to bring in the legislation."

The discussion did not produce a second for Massey's motion for presentation of legislation, so it was lost.

A short time later, Safety-Service Director Robert Owen made a brief, formal recommendation to Council for authority for the administration to purchase a new 1,000-gallon pumper for the fire department, replacing a 32-year-old truck, and a new front - end loader with a backhoe attachment for the street department.

He said the street department's present highlift is worn out and probably will not last through the winter.

Then Willshaw made a motion to authorize the ordinance committee to meet with Owen and draft the specifications for the two pieces of equipment.

The motion passed unanimously.

"Some people question how we can buy new equipment if we have no money for raises right now," Willshaw said.

He explained that law permits the city to borrow against anticipated income for equipment purchases or capital improvements, but the funds actually must be on hand before a pay boost can be granted.

Additional tax funds are expected from Lisbon and from the city income tax collection, which means the city can issue notes at present against the anticipated collections and proceed with the equipment purchases, he said.

"I think all the members of Council should know the only reason we can even consider the purchase of equipment is because we have the income tax," Massey commented.

Willshaw related the details of an officials' trip to Massillon and Wooster Saturday in which they inspected fire equipment. He said the cost of the new pumper is estimated at approximately $30,000 and the front-end loader and backhoe may cost $8,000 to $8,000.

On the inspection trip were Willshaw, Owen, Councilmen S. James Welch, Floyd Murray and Kenneth Berg and Asst. Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne, representing Chief Charles Bryan, who is on vacation.

tion riots and the deaths of a French newsmen and an Oxford repairman.

Washington authorities countered that Barnett's failure to provide adequate police protection caused the strife.

There was a mounting buildup of nearly 12,000 soldiers including the crack 101st Airborne, the paratroop outfit that quelled the 1957 school integration violence at Little Rock, Ark.

Troops streamed into Oxford, outnumbering the college hamlet's citizenry 2-1 in the strongest display of federal might since the end of the Civil War nearly a century ago.

The troops arrested more than 200 persons since Sunday night, about one-third of them students. Most of them went free, but more than a dozen stayed in custody to face various charges, including former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The military's mission was to protect the slightly built, 29-year-old Meredith's court-ordered status as a student at the university, and to forestall further rioting on campus in Oxford.

Jeeps rattled through inky blackness on inspection of armed footsoldiers who dug foxholes beneath a softly falling rain. The campus was sealed off. So was the town square of Oxford, where short-lived skirmishes occurred on Monday between civilians and helmeted troops.

The highlight of Monday's kaleidoscopic segregation drama was the arrest of Walker, the spit-and-polish former Army general who led the 101st Airborne at Central High School during the Little Rock segregation crisis.

Walker, 53, resigned from the Army after a dispute over his indoctrination program for overseas American troops. He came here from his home in Dallas, Tex., after urging the massing of tens of thousands of volunteers to resist Meredith's registration.

On Sunday, Walker rallied rioting students on the Mississippi campus. He was arrested Monday after he shouted encouragement to rioters who hurled bottles and bricks at federal troops in Oxford's central square.

Walker failed to make $100,000 bond on charges that included engaging in insurrection against the American flag he once served. Maximum penalty upon conviction would be 20 years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

When he failed to post bond, Walker was whisked away to a Springfield, Mo., medical center for federal prisoners. It is a center for, among other things, diagnosis of mental cases. In Washington, in sharp congressional reaction to the Mississippi crisis, Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, referred to Walker as a psychopath.

After talking to Walker nearly an hour Monday night, Dr. Russell Settle, the center's warden, said the former general was certain his friends would raise his bond shortly.

One of his supporters, identified as Ashland Burchwell, a 22-year-old Texan, was picked up in Dallas, along with a large supply of arms and ammunition police said he was taking to Walker in Mississippi. Burchwell said he had worked for Walker both in the Army and in Texas.

Child, 6, Lost Several Hours After Mixup On Right School

A 6-year-old Chester-Newell area girl, who was enrolled Monday at a Chester school instead of at Newell, was found safe several hours after she failed to come home after classes.

Patty Ann Greathouse, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greathouse of the Washington School Rd., was found by her family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brewer, who reside on the same road.

The Greathouses moved onto the Washington School Rd. Saturday, coming from Weirton. They reside seven miles south of Chester.

Patty Ann was enrolled Monday morning at Central School in Chester by Principal Thayer Allison in the first grade.

After she was enrolled, it was discovered that she should have been enrolled at Newell since the Chester school bus goes only about 2 1/2 miles down the Washington School Rd.

After school Patty Ann took the Chester bus and got off at the end of its route, unaware she still had four or five miles to go.

When she got off, she walked with Patty and Lynn Brewer, Chester High students, about a half mile to their home. She ate supper with them and watched television, apparently not frightened at being lost.

Since her family has no phone, the Brewers called Mrs. Grace Shaffer, first grade teacher at Chester, who notified Allison. The principal was just arriving at the Brewer home when Patty Ann's father and brothers arrived. They apparently were looking for her and spotted her at the Brewer home.

Principal Ernest John of the Newell Jefferson School reported Patty Ann was enrolled in the first grade at his school this morning.

Chester Patrolman Frank Fetty was notified at 5:20 p. m. the little girl was missing and was preparing to issue a missing persons alert when she was found shortly before 6.

showed that two charges were filed against the club — sale to a non-member and the fact an employe had been convicted of sale to a non-member. However, counsel for the board determined to proceed only in the case of the alleged Municipal Court conviction of the barmaid, so the other charge was dismissed, the docket entry showed.

The same case resulted in a Common Pleas Court "padlock" action against the Pennsylvania Ave. club, instituted by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff suggested the padlock action to Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw, asking that the place be closed as "a public nuisance." He cited a number of cutting and shooting incidents that allegedly occurred inside the club or in the immediate vicinity. Judge Joel H. Sharp did not grant the "padlock" request, but clamped a curfew on the club.

Judge Chertoff also certified his court's proceedings to the State Liquor Control Board. He attended the board's meeting at which evidence was taken in the alleged violation.

California Woman Injured In Collision LISBON — A California woman was hurt slightly in a collision Monday afternoon on Route 14-A, four-tenths of a mile east of Salem.

Beatrice Bailey, 57, of Ontario, Calif., suffered lacerations of the right elbow and a whiplash injury of the neck in the crash at 4:35 p. m. but was not treated, the State Highway Patrol reported.

The woman was a passenger in an eastbound car operated by Ruth Ann Dodge, 25, of 1794 Neld Rd., East Palestine, which was hit in the rear by an auto operated by Beatrice Johnson, 40, of Salem.

The Salem driver was cited for failing to stop within the assured clear distance, the patrol said.

longest manned space flight planned by the United States.

Schirra flew a simulated mission Monday in a procedures trainer.

He and Cooper underwent exhaustive physical examinations. Dr. Howard Minners, flight surgeon, said both astronauts were in excellent condition and ready to fly.

Schirra, 39, a Navy commander, will begin his final preparations today, as technicians load fuel into the Atlas rocket that will send him and his Sigma 7 spacecraft on their flight, possibly the last before an American astronaut spends a full day in space.

Space officials, who had previously hazarded a guess of a 50-50 chance to get Schirra off on Wednesday, had no estimate of odds in their last weather briefing Monday.

The critical area Daisy menaces is the locale where Schirra would land after one, two or three orbits. The weather in the landing areas of the Pacific for the fourth, fifth and sixth orbits is not a problem at the moment.

St. Clair To Get Plow For Snow

The St. Clair Township Board of Trustees authorized purchase of a snow plow for the township grader at a meeting Monday night at the Township Hall in Calcutta.

The plow will be purchased from Howard Adams Machinery Co. of Salineville.

Trustees changed the time of meetings from 8 to 7 p.m., effective next Monday. It was reported that work has been completed on the blacktop patching of holes on the Sprucevale Rd.

A request was received for the trustees to smooth Ross St. in Glenmoor.

2 Ohio Men Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohioans are among eight men indicted by a federal grand jury on contempt of Congress charges. Earlier convictions on the charges growing out of investigations of Communists were reserved by the Supreme Court on a legal technicality.

Plane Crash Claims 5 On Missile Staff

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Six missile experts en route to Vandenberg Air Force Base were killed Monday night when a transport plane plunged into the ground near Santa Maria airport, authorities reported.

The crash also killed the plane's pilot.

The twin-engine craft was attempting a landing at the field here after a flight from Hawthorne airport near Los Angeles.

It circled the field, one engine sputtering, then clipped the tops of a 75-foot high grove of Eucalyptus trees and smashed nose-first into the ground.

Santa Barbara County Sheriff James Webster said that the seven men aboard were all killed instantly.

He said the bodies were so badly broken in the crash that it was difficult, at first, to determine the number of dead aboard.

Earlier reports indicated 11 persons were killed.

The men were identified as scientists, engineers and technicians employed by the Martin Co. builder of the Titan missile.

Woman Receives Jail

CINCINNATI (AP) — A woman who set off an incident last May 13 during which eight persons were bitten by police dogs has received a 30-day jail term. Common Pleas Court Judge Otis Hess sentenced Miss Gwendolyn Barnes, 23, Monday after she pleaded guilty to assault and battery.

the investigation any air of non-partisanship.

As a whole, the Republicans were cautious about Eastland's investigation.

They awaited a cue from Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a committee member, who was released Monday from Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital where he had been undergoing tests.

Dirksen, seeking reelection in Illinois, has been a strong advocate of civil rights. The guessing was that he would not go along with the kind of inquiry Eastland seems to have in mind.

The Republicans approached the situation cautiously. Many of them felt—as did many Democrats—that Kennedy's course in Mississippi would hurt his party in the South but help it in populous Northern and Western states where it counts most.

Each Man Must Make A Choice

If you are a citizen of the United States, you have made your choice in the issue that has claimed lives at the University of Mississippi and will claim more if the spirit of rebellion in that state doesn't cool off.

You have decided to respect law and the courts, or you have decided to flout laws you don't like and show contempt for courts that uphold them.

If you did the latter, you have become either a total outlaw or a scowling — one who disobeys laws he disagrees with.

And if you have become a scowling, you have become either a part-time petty offender, or one of a handful of Americans who can turn an attitude into a policy; if you lived in the South, you may have become one of a band of lawyer-politicians chiseling at the structure of the federal government.

YOUR ARGUMENT would be that you do not agree with laws guaranteeing equal rights to Negroes in the first place for one reason or another and in the second place you do not recognize the right of the federal courts to apply the laws to you.

Either you would be waving the Confederate flag for show or getting ready to follow an anachronistic rebel like Gen. Edwin A. Walker, the Texan, who showed up at the University of Mississippi to lead a student charge against the symbols of federal authority.

Each of us as a citizen must make his choice about the meaning of a government of law. Gen. Walker made his. Gov. Barnett of Mississippi made his.

Americans have made brilliant careers out of arguing the law. But no American ever has made an honorable career out of scoffing at the law.

Something Worth Investigating

Republic Steel, Jones & Laughlin, Arco, Detroit Steel, Bethlehem and Colorado Fuel & Iron have asked the federal government to go to the mat over something worth investigating — suspected dumping in this country of steel wire rods.

These steel producers point to statistics indicating that 30 per cent of the domestic sale of steel wire rods is being supplied by Japan, Germany, France, Belgium and Luxembourg. They want the Treasury Department to impose special duties and to require bond to guarantee payment of any special duties that might be assessed later.

What's it all about?

It seems to have dawned on steel in the United States that foreign competition may not be as efficient as it is cracked up to be in puffery designed to give the impression that foreign producers suddenly have come into possession of secrets they never had before.

Proposing A Court Reform

There will be outcries of rage during the session of the United States Supreme Court beginning today and running until next summer.

Indignant citizens will charge the court and its individual members with all the assorted offenses common to the foulest enemies of society. One such citizen appeared on television last week fulminating against the court as an "anti-Christ" influence because of its school prayer decision last June.

In connection with desegregation trouble in Southern states it is a certainty that Dixie legalists will be suggesting ways of interpreting the Constitution that, had they been used during the early period of interpretation, would have knocked the props from under the federal system while it was still under construction.

It is possible, too, that one or more members of the Supreme Court might have to be replaced this term by President Kennedy; he already has named two justices. Whenever this is done, commentators have a Roman holiday of dazzling speculation, guessing what the new man will think.

For Survival

Everybody who can read knows there's a new book called "Silent Spring" that is causing an uproar by warning about the insect poisons we spray and dust and sprinkle.

If publicity makes the success of a book, this one should be a mint for its author and her publisher. She is Rachel Carson, who wrote "The Sea Around Us." With a ready-made following to start with, she might go a million copies or more with "Silent Spring."

She contends that substances used in control of insects are poisoning wild life, pets, food, water, human beings and the soil. Chemical warfare against pests, she believes, can upset the balance of nature if it is continued recklessly. There could be a "silent spring." All life would be gone.

This is stuff dear to the heart of everybody who gets mushy about cooperating with nature and mad about people who mess with nature, not knowing or caring about the consequences.

Nature really does have a plan — not the kind of blueprint you make for a shopping center or urban rehabilitation but a miracle wrought when things that work best are given a chance to work.

It is the same as the trial-and-error plan for the universe, on a reduced scale. The universe is the way it is — the corner of it we know something about — because this is the way things have turned out at this particular instant in universal chaos. It's temporary but it works.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY was at his best Sunday night when he explained on television and radio what it means to live under a government of law.

Every president must come to grips sooner or later, in one form or another, with defiant lawlessness and the even more vexing problem of those who, claiming to be lawful, scoff at a law they dislike.

All presidents are sworn to uphold the Constitution and must obey this constitutional duty in a showdown. Whether their name is Abraham Lincoln, who led the nation to war to put down Southern rebellion, or Dwight Eisenhower, who sent federal troops to Little Rock to enforce a court order; whether it is Andrew Jackson, who once was defied by South Carolina, or John Kennedy, who was defied by Mississippi, the power of the federal government must be upheld.

If the South wants to agitate the repeal of the 14th Amendment, it is free to do so. But it is not free to flout the 14th Amendment while it remains in force.

THE LAW stands until and unless it is changed.

Each man makes a choice. Either he respects the law because it is the law, though he may disagree with it, or he acts to suit himself, regardless of the law.

It is no great exaggeration to say that many have said recently, that the United States is in greater danger from lawlessness inside its boundaries than from anything that menaces it on the outside.

The outside danger is self-proclaimed and honest. It does not cloak itself in bogus legality to do its damage. It is not insidious. It is not a form of betrayal from within.

Dumping, illegal in the United States as an import practice, means foreign producers would be selling steel products here cheaper than they would be selling them at home. It might even mean in some instances they were shipping surplus production here at a loss to get the advantage of continuous production and a high rate of productivity in their mills.

If this were being done, it might mean that steel producers in the United States were being squeezed by a practice that, continued long enough, would be mutually ruinous. And it could mean that steel workers here were being held accountable for cost differentials that were faked.

Here is something worth investigating — far more so than the idea of investigating steel producers here, recently agitated by Sen. Kefauver.

Most of their guessing is futile. Like all other speculation about court business it also is dangerous. The school prayer decision is a case in point.

Because of early speculative misinformation about this decision disseminated in the insane hustle-bustle of rushing slapdash interpretations of court decisions to news media before the decisions had been interpreted carefully, a needless issue was raised.

Nothing now can dislodge the mistaken belief that the Supreme Court ruled against prayer last June. All it said was that prayer is too meaningful ever to be touched by any political authority, which is why the Founding Fathers wrote the First Amendment to the Constitution.

There needs to be a drastic reform in the release of Supreme Court information. All decisions should be interpreted by the authority of the Supreme Court justices themselves when released. They should agree on official abstracts to prevent what happened on the school prayer decision — a misunderstanding whose mischief may endure for years to come.

By Truman Twill

Those of us who like this earth and want to make the most of our brief stay on its crust get hot under the collar about people who monkey with nuclear explosions and may knock things out of whack and spoil the arrangement.

This does not mean we can't swat a fly or kill roaches under the sink. It does mean we should know what we're up to before we do in the roaches with something that might kill everything else.

It means we should understand how natural forces stay in balance over the long pull by natural selection and what momentous tomfoolery we may be up to when we barge in with half-baked ideas.

No one has all the answers. But some of the answers could have been furnished if the right people had been asked the questions.

Rachel Carson's book may cool off the chemical companies and the peddlers of insecticides. It may make the poor, dear, dumb people insist that their great good government do some cooling off with regulations to protect them from well-meaning people who can kill them and the earth as dead as if there had been premeditation.

"Silent Spring" is going to be "must" reading for all of us who get mushy about staying in tune with nature for the sake of our own survival.

'We're Watching The Situation Closely'

Cuba Looms As Red Sub Base

By Victor Riesel

There now is definite evidence that Cuba will — in a few weeks — begin replacing Albania as a nest for Soviet submarines. Sominer, it must be reported that there are at least two rocket bases from which Cuban or Russian crews can rake the United States as far west as Texas.

The outside danger is self-proclaimed and honest. It does not cloak itself in bogus legality to do its damage. It is not insidious. It is not a form of betrayal from within.

Of course, I asked Joe Curran how he knows. "My source," said the NMU leader, "came out of Cuba. This source comes from trusted people — tough anti-Communist fighters. They were anti-Batista, too. I talked personally to them. I will not tell you where or how. I hope only that they come back out of Cuba alive."

Furthermore, you put this down. I believe the fishing port everybody is talking about, is camouflage. The Soviets are constructing it to fish, all right, but in waters they plan to trouble with their subs. The port was announced so they could divert our attention from the submarine base construction. I trust my source. I tell you that CIA and other agencies know this too."

Big Joe growls much. Now as I asked him whether this knowledge had motivated his famous recent call for a world seafaring and dock workers boycott, he was more a growler than ever. "I am an American citizen, brother," said Joe Curran. "And that's a Soviet military buildup. Sure I want it boycotted. But there is more."

"A COUPLE OF YEARS ago, when we were making a tour of the Soviet Union we saw many Liberian and Panamanian flag ships in Odessa and Leningrad. We were told that 46 of them had sailed into Black Sea ports, principally Odessa, within a six-month period."

"Some of those Liberian and Panamanian flag ships and some of those carrying military cargo to Cuba today are owned by companies in which American operators have an interest."

So, said Joe, when the military buildup was launched in Cuba, he launched his boycott.

But the sailors of other unions throughout the world, who are so swift with their anti-Communist resolutions, are not so quick with their willingness to stop making money out of Communist hire. The International Transportworkers Federation (ITF) has rejected the boycott. This startled both of us.

I have heard the ITF secretary-general, Pieter de Vries, in private and public talks, spout long about the "menace." Now he has written to Curran saying that the ITF executive committee will not join the boycott. It will not meet until next November. The boycott is political, said de Vries.

Retorts Joe: "They weren't worried about being political when we moved against Spain and the Dominican Republic. Why not against Communist Cuba?"

Mississippi's Rights

By David Lawrence

U.S. Seen Without Authority In Ole Miss Case

There is nothing in the Constitution or in the laws passed by Congress which authorizes use of federal troops to compel any public educational institution to admit a certain student just because he demands that he be enrolled. There is nothing in the Constitution which denies the governor of a state an opportunity to be heard by the full membership of the Supreme Court of the United States in a dispute between state and federal authority.

There is nothing in the Constitution which even mentions "education" as one of the subjects coming within the powers of the federal government.

Whatever authority the Department of Justice or the federal courts claim today in this field is derived from a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1954 which gave no legal reason but only "sociological" considerations as an argument for reversing an 1896 decision that permitted "separate but equal" facilities in dealing with segregation.

The 1954 decision cited the 14th Amendment as the basis for its ruling, but the amendment was never legally adopted by the necessary number of states.

In fact, the legislatures of some of the Southern states were compelled at the point of the bayonet by federal troops to "ratify" it. This happened in 1868 — three years after the War Between the States was over. The Supreme Court has never been willing to rule on the validity of the process by which the 14th Amendment was allegedly ratified.

YET ONE OF the 10 original amendments — known as the "Bill of Rights" and duly ratified in 1791 — does say that no person shall be "deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law."

Gov. Barnett nevertheless has been threatened with jail — without "due process of law."

Last Saturday Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, in a telephoned address to the American Bar Association convention at San Francisco, said the distinguished lawyers of Mississippi had not spoken out in the battle over integration.

Apparently, Mr. Kennedy didn't note the speech made in the Senate two days before by Sen. John C. Stennis of Mississippi, one of the ablest lawyers in the country. He has sat on the bench. He is one of the fairest-minded men in the Senate.

He told of the origin of the case of James Meredith, the Negro applicant, as a private suit against the board of trustees of Mississippi's state university and how a learned judge of the U.S. District Court ruled that Mississippi college authorities were justified in denying admission to Meredith.

Sen. Stennis described the subsequent legal battles in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He referred to the fact that in the Circuit Court of Appeals one judge said he thought Meredith would be a troublemaker and should be denied admission.

BUT THE MAIN POINT of criticism made by Sen. Stennis was that Mississippi was being denied a hearing by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Constitution specifically provides that the Supreme Court must hear as a matter of "original jurisdiction" all cases involving a conflict between a state and the federal government and that the lower courts have no right to decide such a question.

But only one member of the highest court — Justice Black — ruled on it, though he claims he consulted the other judges individually, since the court was not in session. He doesn't say whether he did this by telephone or by personal visits. The case arose recently during the time the Supreme Court members were on vacation. Certainly no opportunity afforded the defendants for oral argument by their attorneys came before the entire court.

"This," says Sen. Stennis, "is certainly not judicial consideration of the case on its merits. This is not the type of searching thought and application of legal principles which should be given such a serious case. Is it really true that a governor might be held in contempt of court, or sent to jail, or a sovereign state might be invaded by federal troops and its citizens terrorized at the point of bayonets, on this fragmentary attention by one judge?"

SENATOR STENNIS also pointed out that on three separate occasions the Senate had "soundly defeated proposals to give the attorney general the very authority to exercise the powers which he has assumed," Sen. Stennis referred to the substitution of the attorney general as a plaintiff in court for a private citizen.

Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi — who has been for many years, chairman of the all-important Judiciary Committee of the U.S. Senate — said to the Senate:

"If the day has come when not only a citizen of Mississippi, but also the governor of that great state, can be dragged across a state line by federal marshals or troops and subjected to the dictates of appellate judges appointed to their cushy jobs for life, then judicial tyranny is a reality and not a fiction."

There is serious doubt from a legal standpoint whether a president has the right to send troops into a state under the circumstances existing in Mississippi. This correspondent made the same criticism five years ago when President Eisenhower ordered federal troops to Little Rock, Ark.

Whatever one's individual feelings may be about segregation or desegregation, it seems only fair to express agreement with Sen. Stennis that the whole case should be "heard on its merits by the Supreme Court."

It seems fair also to suggest that the fraudulent method of "ratifying" the 14th Amendment — on which the whole series of court rulings and new executive orders mobilizing federal military forces are based today — should be opened up for trial after 94 years of tragic silence by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Spain Eyes 'Summit'

By Stephen Hughes

RABAT Moves are now being made towards a "summit" meeting between King Hassan II of Morocco and Generalissimo Franco with a view to settling disputes, some of them several centuries old, between Morocco and her nearest European neighbor, Spain.

In the view of Mr. Ahmed Balafrej, Morocco's Foreign Minister, it is high time that the two chiefs of state got together and attempted to solve their problems amicably, and in Madrid this overture has been greeted with "satisfaction."

The occasion for Mr. Balafrej's statement was a series of minor incidents involving Spanish fishing craft which allegedly "violated" Moroccan territorial waters.

Spain sent warships to escort its fishing fleet in the Straits of Gibraltar. This raised protests from the Moroccan Press and led to an official demand for "explanations" from Madrid.

THIS PROBLEM is relatively new and arises from Morocco's decision this year to extend its territorial waters from 6 to 12 miles. Considering that the Straits of Gibraltar are only 10 miles wide, it could easily lead to trouble, as when Moroccan coast guards tried to enforce the limit by ordering Spanish vessels away from their coast.

But negotiations to settle this problem must lead to a renewed tussle over a much older Hispano-Moroccan litigation regarding the two Spanish strong-hold towns of Ceuta and Melilla on the Mediterranean coast of Morocco.

Ceuta, particularly, is the equivalent of Spain's problem with Gibraltar. The two fortified harbors are directly opposite each other on the Straits, and they are physically similar, with craggy rocks standing like twin sentinels which the ancients called the Pillars of Hercules.

THE POLITICAL problems of Ceuta and Gibraltar are so similar in fact that Moroccans even suggest that if Spain will get out of Ceuta they will help the Madrid government to evict Britain from Gibraltar.

Meanwhile, the Rabat government exercises what pressure it can. The extension of territorial waters to 12 miles makes access difficult to Ceuta and Melilla which depend on imports from the Spanish mainland for practically all the needs of the total population of some 150,000 people.

and the call for bids. That means the new system probably will not be in operation until early next spring.

It will include both new poles and new fixtures, Williams explained.

Finley told Council presentation of the petition represents culmination of nearly three years' effort on the part of the businessmen's group.

"We are fortunate to have a group of businessmen who feel strongly enough about the city and its future to sponsor such a project," Councilman Edward Massey declared.

In other business, Council referred to the newly-reactivated City Traffic Commission a petition asking the city not to grant a request to establish one-way traffic on St. John St. between Sarah St. and Sutton Alley and Vivian Alley from Sarah St. to Ogden St.

SEVERAL appeared personally to speak against the proposal, including Clyde Kays of Sarah St. and Harry Bridge, 1000 St. John St.

Councilman Frank Duffy said he received several complaints on the proposal and discussed it with the street committee. The committee since has "changed its mind" about a switch to one-way traffic and "the streets will stay as they are now," he said.

Councilman George E. Willshaw said the Traffic Commission will investigate and then make a recommendation to Council, but there will be no change in the meantime.

Councilman S. James Welch discussed a proposal which he made several weeks ago for an ordinance to allow the city to compel owners of vacant lots to keep them clear of weeds. He pointed out the solicitor later advised that there is a state law already in existence which offers a remedy, although it requires complicated procedure.

THE LAW provides that when such a complaint is made, Council first should investigate, Welch said. Then, if it determines the condition should be corrected, it serves notice on the property owner, he said. If the owner fails to act, Council must appropriate money to have the property cleared. Then the charge must be certified to the county auditor for collection on the tax duplicate, he said.

Welch also requested Safety-Service Director Robert Owen to ask the street department to paint new center lines on St. Clair Ave. The fall fog season has arrived, which makes the lines helpful to drivers, Welch said. Owen said the work probably will be done today.

Murray took the floor to urge approval of the 1-mill firemen's levy at the Nov. 6 general election.

"Everyone knows how important it is that this levy passes," he said. "I will go on record now to support it and I will do everything possible to see that it passes."

MASSEY ALSO urged renewal of the levy. As an example of the work of the police department, he told of several officers working in plain clothes on their off-duty time and in their private cars in an attempt to apprehend a suspect. Massey said he could not give the full details of the case because it still is under investigation.

"We have a police department and a chief who are really working to make this a safe city," he said. Massey also commended the work of the fire department and other city employees.

Duffy remarked he read in The Review that the street department applied sand to Harvey Ave. to eliminate a slippery condition caused by "bleeding" sealcoat on the blacktop surface. He asked Owen if the department could eliminate the rough surface on Pennsylvania Ave., also allegedly caused by the sealcoating.

OWEN REPLIED the ridges in the sealcoat were caused by a rubber-tired roller. He said it may be possible to scrape off the ridges "by skimming the surface lightly with a grader." Owen also asked Council for funds to make blacktop repairs on stretches of Jefferson St., Washington St. and the River Rd.

Describing traffic movement on Pennsylvania Ave., Duffy said "it's swing and sway all the way."

Describing a city officials' visit in Massillon Saturday, Willshaw told how that city of about 31,000 has improved its financial condition since enacting an income tax in 1960.

"In 1960, they found themselves in the same condition we were in last year — in the red about $80,000," Willshaw said. "They passed an income tax which last year produced $386,000. It is remarkable to see the things Massillon has done. The police and fire departments are a credit to the city."

"Since 1960, Massillon has annexed over 8,000 acres, which means the tax will produce over $400,000 this year with no increase in the rate," Willshaw continued. "There was no opposition from their Trades and Labor Council. The only opposition was from a few people in the outlying districts."

REPORTING FOR the claims committee, Massey reported approval of a bill for $14.75 which David Williams of Cadmus St. filed against the city, asserting his auto muffler was destroyed when he struck a hole on Boyce St.

Murray commented that approval of such a claim might bring "a rash of bills from people who claim their mufflers or tires were damaged on street holes." However, he conceded the Boyce hole "was bad," as he examined it as a member of the street committee. Council approved Massey's recommendation.

Napoleon Cordoza of Virginia Ave., appearing personally, told Council the bridge over the East End Run at Virginia Ave. may need repair, as it shakes when heavy traffic passes. Murray said the street committee will investigate Saturday.

Joseph Burcham of W. 4th St. spoke briefly, asserting he opposed legislation Council approved Sept. 17 appropriating $200 to hire special counsel to appeal the city income tax case.

Council received an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce to attend the dedication of the new city freeway Oct. 17. President Charles N. Edwards and Cooper indicated they will attend. The session opened with invocation by Edwards.

Son Of Lisbon Family To Talk At Boardman

LISBON — Dr. Kenneth G. Neigh of Scarsdale, N. Y., general secretary of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church, will be guest speaker for the Organization of Protestant Men Monday evening at 8 at Boardman High School.

Dr. Neigh is the son of Mrs. Harry Neigh of N. Market St. A graduate of David Anderson High School and of Ohio Wesleyan University and McCormick Theological Seminary, he served as minister of the seminary at Chicago and prior to his present position, was executive secretary of the Detroit Synod.

Wellsville's Street Repairs Continuing

The Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville moved onto Broadway today in continuing work in the annual street repair program of Wellsville.

The $9,330.13 project calls for 22 sections of city streets to receive treatment.

Work began Monday on Maple and Lincoln Aves.

Bill

the resolution was laid over for third reading.

In opposing the legislation, Duffy renewed an attack on Cooper, declaring that the city should not be forced to hire another assistant to help the solicitor perform his job.

"The solicitor was elected to that job; he has an assistant and now he wants more help with this case," Duffy said. "Is he admitting to the people he's a failure or can't do his job? I feel he should resign or the people should start a move to impeach him."

"Joe Cooper isn't doing his job," Duffy continued. He said in the course of an "economy committee" investigation he talked with several attorneys who "couldn't understand what he did with his time."

"We're paying the tax-payers' money to fight the people in court," Murray said, reiterating his stand at the meeting Sept. 17. "I'm going to vote 'no' all the way on this." He added that he does not believe state law allows a city to spend public funds to support or oppose a question on the ballot.

"This is not a question of attempting to defeat anything on the ballot," Willshaw replied. "It's a legal question to decide if a question will go on the ballot."

The controversy dates back to early August, when City Auditor Lawrence Applegate ruled as invalid the petitions submitted by Trades and Labor Council to force a vote on the income tax enacted in March.

The labor group took the case to Common Pleas Court, which issued a writ of mandamus ordering the auditor to certify the question to the County Election Board. Then the city filed notice of appeal and the solicitor asked Council for authority to employ special counsel to aid in presenting the case to the next highest court — the 7th District Court of Appeals.

Barnett

The appellate court cited two instances where Barnett personally turned back Meredith. It said his conduct was designed for the "deliberate and announced purpose of preventing compliance with the orders of this and other federal courts."

Meredith's admission had been directed by both the appeals court and a U.S. district court for Southern Mississippi.

Johnson, who turned Meredith away from the campus last Wednesday, also failed to show up at his contempt hearing, conducted by three judges.

Leniency Given Youth Due At Reformatory

An East Liverpool youth under sentence to the reformatory was given a rehearing at the request of counsel and was placed on five years probation Monday at Lisbon.

Jimmy Lee Kraft, 19, of 233 Center St., Beechwood, was sentenced Sept. 20 to 1-15 years at the Ohio State Reformatory for the burglary of the DAV Hall in West Point April 15. The sentence was rescinded and he was placed on strict probation by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Kraft, with Thomas Henry Lawrence, 20, of Lisbon R. D. 3, were indicted by the recalled April Grand Jury and Kraft pleaded guilty and requested probation on July 2.

Phone Hearing Reset By PSC At Charleston

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Public Service Commission will continue a hearing Dec. 3 on whether telephone companies must give notice before disconnecting service to a subscriber.

A proposed PSC rule would require the companies to give at least three days notice before halting service to customers for non-payment of bills.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of West Virginia, the Mar Telephone Co., Telephone Utilities of West Virginia and General Telephone Co. of the Southeast all lodged protests to the proposal during an initial PSC hearing on the matter Monday.

Group To Ask Park Projects

Acquisition and development of the Beaver Creek Forest Park and Yellow Creek Forest and construction of the Highlandtown Dam were urged by 22 persons who attended the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council meeting Monday night in Lisbon.

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, president, presided.

A communication was authorized to be sent to Gov. Michael DiSalle and the Division chief of the Department of Natural Resources.

Stream pollution from industrial wastes in several places in the county was discussed and action was taken to request better control.

The Division of Wildlife was requested to provide sanitary facilities for fishermen at some locations on Guilford Lake.

Two committees reported plans under way for restoration of Gaston's Mill and the Beaver Creek Park with a tour of the park by legislators scheduled Oct. 13, Elliott said.

own views on the Cuban situation. At his news conference two weeks ago, Kennedy warned that the United States would act alone if necessary in event of a serious Cuban Communist military threat to the United States or any American nation.

Kennedy then made clear that under present circumstances the situation in Cuba does not require military action.

In the U.S. view, however, it does require other steps designed both to contain Communist power in Cuba and to put new pressures on Castro with the ultimate purpose of bringing about his downfall.

Rusk and Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin have held talks with Latin American officials during the past week which have encouraged them to believe a solid front of opposition to Castro and the buildup of Soviet arms in Cuba is developing.

The United States would like to see virtually all remaining trade — with the exception of some food and medical supplies — between Latin-American countries and Cuba cut off.

$556; Fox Nursing Home, $553; Volino Laundry, $494, and National Church Supply, $156.

The city's 14 taverns and clubs paid a total of $747. Only six are metered. The three schools, none of which is metered, paid a total of $477.

The 43 apartments, halls and tourist homes paid $1,626; eight bakeries and restaurants, $152; 15 garages and service stations, $497; 10 beauty shops and barbershops, $262; 28 stores, offices and shops, $509, and 11 small businesses, $518.

The total received from these industrial and commercial customers was $22,733, the report says. If most were metered, the income would reach $25,000 or more at present rates, or $28,700 if rates were boosted 15 per cent.

Based on expected needs of the water department in the next decade, the city will need $49,315 for 1963-64 or $27,500 from industrial and commercial consumers and $21,815 from domestic users. The need will increase an average of 2 per cent annually.

In 1969-70, the city will need $55,537 or $30,000 from industrial and commercial users and $25,537 from homes.

The survey shows the city has 390 working meters, 43 meters not working and 641 customers without meters. Sixty-eight customers were not interviewed because they were not home or for other reasons, and they are to be queried soon, it was reported.

There were 109 homes with only one person, 296 with two persons, 211 with three, 198 with four, 97 with five, 54 with six, 23 with seven and 19 with eight or more. There were a total of 1,009 families representing 3,248 persons.

According to the survey, $4,028 would come in front of the flat $4 home charge each quarter and $2,420 would come in from the per person charge, making a total of $6,448 every three months. This amount would be $25,795 annually, or enough to fulfill the requirements of the anticipated expenditures for the next eight years, the report maintains.

Annexation Plan Cleared

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday approved the annexation of territory north and west to East Palestine.

There was no opposition to the annexation of the territory, which comprises over a square mile — the southern half of Unity Township Section 23 and the south quarter of Section 24, north, and most of the eastern half of Section 27 west.

This area is having sewage difficulties and through the annexation, householders will now be able to connect to the East Palestine sewage system.

In other business, commissioners approved travel allowances for recorder office employees to go to Canton to make photostatic copies. The photostat machine in the Courthouse has been broken for the past week. The part needed cannot be found in stock and it will be necessary for it to be made.

Commissioners, Engineers and clerks' associations will hold a Northeast Ohio District meeting at the Timberlane's in Salem Tuesday, starting with a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. E. P. Hoadley of Ashtabula County, president of the district association, will preside for business.

Columbiana County groups will act as hosts for the meeting.

State Sen. Edmund Sargus and Lawrence Stacey, candidate for state representative, spoke on state issues. Also speaking briefly were County Commissioner Frank Wilson, County Auditor Kenneth Bell and County Judge Herbert Arfman.

The course will conclude Tuesday, Oct. 16 with a luncheon at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon. Rep. Wayne L. Hays will present diplomas to "graduates." He will also speak on national issues.

Group's Plan Outlined For Water Service

Additional plans for establishment of a St. Clair Township water authority were outlined at a meeting of the Township Development Association Monday night at the Calcutta fire station.

A six-man committee was appointed to submit names to the county commissioners who will pick a committee of 15 to 20 residents to circulate a petition asking appointment of the authority.

The committee includes Dean Wilhelm, Robert Frontz, James Blazer, Martin Christian, Phil Miragala and E. G. Dominick.

Wilhelm said he was informed by County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw that a petition form submitted by A. R. Todd, consulting engineer, was not in order and was referred to the county commissioners.

Wilhelm and George Bloomgren, engineer, met with the commissioners yesterday and were told the first step must be the appointment of a sanitary authority.

However, no action has been taken on a previous petition submitted for establishment of a sanitary district, Wilhelm reported.

Stewart Snyder, chairman, read a letter from Todd suggesting an application be filed for a federal grant. No application has been made because the water authority hasn't been set up.

Snyder also read a letter from Rep. Wayne L. Hays offering his assistance in obtaining a federal grant and agreeing to meet with the association. However, the congressman suggested waiting until after present plans are put into effect.

The association approved a plan to meet every other month in Glenmoor.

It also approved a $25 contribution to the Calcutta volunteer fire department.

The association also was informed a traffic check was made at the intersection of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. in Glenmoor with the possibility of erecting a stop light.

Next meeting is Nov. 5 in Calcutta.

liquidate the corporation's assets within three months.

However, Finlay pointed out the plant's management has a meeting late today with representatives of a prospective purchaser. That's one of the glimmers of hope still eyed by the company's estimated 500 employees.

The concern was among those which had expressed an interest in purchasing the company, causing the shareholders to delay final action on liquidation from Sept. 13 until last Thursday.

The employee committee expects to ask a meeting this afternoon with Chamber of Commerce representatives, seeking more information on a published report that a C. of C. committee has machinery in motion to attempt to rescue the Knowles operation.

Finlay said the employee committee will seek to learn what the Chamber group "has in mind in regard to the plant's future."

The committee said it sought to obtain an option on the plant yesterday, but the company declined.

In connection with the Monday deadline for negotiating a sale to the employees, Finlay pointed out the prospective liquidators have to be notified by that time in order that they can inventory equipment, obtain other information and send out circulars.

"But it's entirely too short a time" to permit the employee committee to attempt to complete negotiations, he said.

"It looks like the situation is virtually hopeless from the committee's standpoint unless some angel steps forward," he said.

Then he cited the meeting today between the company's management and the prospective purchaser.

Finlay said the company's management pointed out to the employee committee that "there is an outside chance" that the workers might be able to buy the plant from the liquidators.

EAST PALESTINE — East Palestine Council Monday night accepted the bid of McDonald & Co., a Cleveland bonding firm, for an issue of $233,000 in mortgage revenue bonds for a new sewage treatment plant.

The McDonald bid was 3 3/4 per cent interest and a premium of $1,712. Bonds will run for 25 years with a recall provision after 10 years.

The total cost of the project will be $332,000. The city will receive a federal grant of $97,000, the balance of funds, over the bonds and federal grant, will come from money on hand.

Bids for the plant will be asked early in November. The federal grant is contingent upon the start of work before Jan. 1.

Driver Charged In 2-Way Mishap

A Michigan man was charged with driving without an operator's permit as an aftermath of a two-car crash Monday on Dresden Ave. 50 feet south of W. 7th St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1962 station wagon driven by George W. Baker, 50, of Flint and a 1961 two-door sedan operated by Wynona L. Mansfield, 19, of Calcutta, officers said. The crash dented the right side of the Mansfield car and caused damage to the left front bumper of Baker's auto, police said.

Baker told police he pulled from a parking place at the curb and struck the side of the Mansfield car. The crash was timed at 9:51 a. m.

Baker pleaded guilty at arraignment later yesterday before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. The testimony showed he was using an expired Michigan permit. Judge Chertoff imposed a fine of $10 and costs, but suspended it on condition Baker obtains a new permit as soon as possible. Baker told the judge his brother will drive his car back to Michigan.

Area Highways In 'Scene Route'

Sections of a number of Columbiana County district highways are included in a 2,174-mile network of "Scenic Routes" contained in a report today to Gov. Michael DiSalle from the State Highway Department.

The roads are Route 7, from Powhatan Point to Route 14 near Salem, 104 miles; Route 39, from Loudenville to Wellsville, 101 miles, and Route 164, from Leesville to Columbiana, 55 miles.

Director E. S. Preston said the picturesque roads traverse some of the most beautiful countryside in Ohio. Every area of the state is represented.

The report was an answer to a letter from Gov. DiSalle in August requesting the director to explore the feasibility of such a scenic network.

Other routes will be added to the initial mileage when it appears justifiable to the director, the report said.

"One of these pleasures is a leisurely drive down a pleasant country road. These are the type of roads we have selected, initially, to form a scenic highway network," the director said.

Special effort will be made by the Highway Department in future highway improvements to preserve the natural beauty of any areas traversed by a Scenic Route.

The Soldiers Relief Commission had sought the full amount — $426,451—for this year, but this was pared to $205,800 by the county commissioners, and the Relief Commission wants the difference restored.

The three candidates are Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, backed by the Cuyahoga County Democratic organization; County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan and Acting Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

Locher became mayor when Anthony J. Celebrezze, serving his fifth term, resigned to join President Kennedy's cabinet as welfare secretary.

The Republicans will have no primary because Willard W. Brown, Cleveland industrialist, was the only GOP candidate to file for mayor.

Court's Staff Asks Council For Pay Hike

Municipal Court Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon asked Council Monday night for salary increases for himself and two deputies, asserting they are among the lowest paid employees at City Hall.

In a long letter signed by the clerk and approved by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Harmon told Council his salary is $337 monthly, $5 less than the City Hall custodian draws.

The two deputy clerks, paid $231, are at the bottom of the scale for clerical help, he added. They are Mrs. Phyllis Stewart and Mrs. Helen Steffen.

Harmon pointed out the salaries of women employees at City Hall range from the $231 paid the two in the court to a high of $335. He also explained that the city pays only three-fifths of his salary, or $202, with the county paying the balance.

Harmon declared that the two deputies have given the court "honest, efficient, capable" service since joining the staff nearly three years ago. Citing the wide range of their duties, he said they are "valuable employees." Harmon added that the court handles an average of $10,000 monthly.

Harmon said his salary makes him the lowest paid of any employee in charge of a City Hall office. He pointed out he is on call 24 hours a day and frequently is asked to get out of bed in the middle of the night in order that an attorney or a bondsman can post a surety to get a prisoner out of jail.

Council made no comment on the request, but referred it to the finance committee.

Exercise Works Magic For Dieter

Teen-agers, sitting and stuffing is fattening. Exercise is the answer. If you will exercise daily you can change bulges to bygone measurements: Bust 36, waist 25½, abdomen 31, hips 37, thigh 21, calf 13½, ankle 8, upper arm 11.

That is streamlining par excellence. Teeners, whip into streamliners. Beneath the bulges you really do have a beautiful figure.

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated leaflet, "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

To help you with your streamlining, I asked Ruth to advise which exercises she considered the very best. Here are her favorite exercises, the ones which helped her to slim four inches off the abdomen, five inches off the hips and four inches off each thigh measurement. All in all, Ruth slimmed off 20 inches with a loss of 17 pounds.

TO BANISH FORE and aft bulges:
Position: Lying on left side, head on folded arms, legs straight down. Action: Flex right knee briskly toward chest, shoot leg straight down, then swing vigorously rearward.

Count, 1, 2-p-u-l. Hold. Repeat ten times, change sides and repeat. Always hold on the rearward swing to a slow count of six to maintain tension in the bustle of muscle on the derriere.

From the same position as above, swing top leg forward, then swing leg vigorously rearward, forward and again to the rear and on the second rearward swing, h-o-l-d.

Continue for 12 to 15 counts, change sides and swing again, hitting the hold, swing, hold rhythm by holding on alternate swings rearward. This exercise is a dilly.

Same position, lying on side. This time circle with top leg, making wide circles from the hip joint, circling 10 times in one direction, 10 in opposite direction. Change sides and circle again. To reach inner thighline muscles: From same lying-on-side position, legs down, raise top leg about 12 inches, hold, then raise under leg to meet top leg and h-o-l-d. Change sides, repeat 10 times.

Now, ups-a-daisy. Get into the position to do the high bicycle exercise, on back, weight supported on shoulders, hands braced on hips, upper arm holding to support weight.

Movement: Shuttle into action, swinging one leg downward touching toes to floor pull toes toward instep to stretch calf muscles. Repeat 10 times, later 25 counts. Relax.

IN THREE and a half months Ruth slimmed down to these measurements:

Bust 36, waist 25½, abdomen 31, hips 37, thigh 21, calf 13½, ankle 8, upper arm 11.

Out Of The Air

Rescue Company Waits For Danger

Mention the name of fireman John Farragher to the group at the New York Fire Department's Rescue Company 1, and there's a lowering of eyes and a green-faced silence.

Farra gher was trapped on one of the top floors of a blazing loft building in lower Manhattan on July 12. They had to comb the debris for his body. Last Sunday night, NBC's "Show of the Week" reported on the fire and the search, took you aboard the fire truck, sirens screaming, to other fires, and introduced you to Lt. Williams McMahon's group at Rescue Company 1.

"IT WAS Johnny Farragher," the lieutenant said, "who took out 20 men who'd been trapped under the decks of that aircraft carrier, the Constellation, that burned over at the Brooklyn Navy Yard a few months ago. Johnny was a good man."

Bill McMahon is a burly, soft-spoken fellow in a cap that's cadet in front and chief on top. He went to parochial school with me. And on television, he should give Neville Brand a run for his money.

In his shiny headquarters just a block and a half from Times Square, McMahon and his group—George Planding, Tom Baldwin, Charles Driscoll, Herbert Peterson, John McBride, Joseph Reres and Paul Geidel—sat around a long metal table downing their mugs of coffee and chatting about the life of a TV fireman.

PLANDING, a ruffled-faced man, is the cook, first whip (driver) and senior member of the group.

"George," Driscoll said, "was in the Civil War."

Peterson is their Johnny (newest member).

"The television people were in here 50 days this summer," McMahon said, "and they were okay guys. We had Doug Downs, the photographer, lashed to the front bumper of the truck as we went off on one alarm and strapped to the top of the truck on another."

"The writer and director, Jack Fuller, wanted to get the feel of the fire hose one day and was thrown for a loop."

"Holding one of those things," Tom Baldwin added, "is like being hit from both sides by a couple of football linemen."

"AT ONE of the fires," McMahon went on, "both Downs and Fuller needed the resuscitator treatment."

One man said, "You never get used to the smoke."

PLANDING, the first whip, said, "Or the officers," and ducked.

But firemen, they all agreed, were a good lot, with great corps spirit. "In the Police Department," said a former policeman, "each man goes his own way. Here there's real cooperation. A man never can freeze; he has to take care of the man behind him. It's like Navy duty—or, better yet, submarine duty—with lots of pride. That's why I joined."

"There's not a bachelor in the place," said another. "How come? A fireman is good pickings for a woman. We're great husbands. And available."

"THE FIRE RESCUE squad," McMahon said, "is the shock troops of the department. We've got the heavy equipment. We get about 150 calls a month. Twenty are specials, requiring our equipment; 10 are multiple-alarm fires, the big ones, with engine companies coming from all over; the rest are average."

"We get four to five false alarms a month. We never know what we're going to do. You can imagine the looks on our faces when we saw that airplane lying in the middle of the street in Brooklyn. And people—when the fire's a small one—wonder why so many of us showed up."

The alarm bell suddenly rang out with five gongs—pause—then three—pause—then two. Some of the men, attached to the hook-and-ladder company that shares the building, were long since on their feet and listening intently.

Within 15 seconds, their truck was screaming out onto 43rd St. We clustered about the radio out front. It was a false alarm.

"Three to go," Bill McMahon said.

Autumn Vegetables Reach Markets With Fall Weather

Fall weather brings autumn vegetables into the area food markets, many of which are excellent choices this week since both price and quality are important to shoppers, according to the Mahoning County Co-operative Extension service at Canfield.

A prime example of this fact is cauliflower. This snowy white member of the cabbage family is in the best supply of the year starting this week. This situation usually lasts through October and into November.

Cauliflower has several country cousins that also rate shopping list consideration. Cabbage at 6 to 8 cents per pound still is one of the economy choices. Remember last spring when the price was about 18? Market forecasts, coupled with normal seasonal trends, indicate that even now two other cabbage cousins will be even better values in about two weeks.

Carrots, lettuce and onions are three commodities that are in a somewhat normal market at this time. Although still available at reasonable prices, the summer-time vegetables—tomatoes, peppers and sweet corn are much less plentiful, and trending higher in price.

Like vegetables, fall fruits predominate. From local orchards and far away ones such apples as McIntosh, Jonathan, Red Delicious, Cortland and others are being harvested and sent to market. Grades of apples commonly found in the retail trade are US No. 1, Fancy and Extra Fancy. The biggest difference between these grades is color. The Extra Fancy are more highly colored, hence more attractive to many.

Prices are still up on the red meats. Practically speaking, the good values seem to be on the cured pork cuts (hams, picnics and bacon) and on shoulder and chuck roasts.

Dr. Miller Cites Planning In Address At Chester

Planning is most important to have a great community, great state or great university, Dr. Paul A. Miller, a native of East Liverpool who rose to become president of West Virginia University, told some 120 Monday night at a public meeting of the Chester Junior Women's Club at the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

"There is no great state without a great university," Dr. Miller declared, calling for more awareness and more emphasis on colleges, universities and public schools because of the world's shift toward science and technology. "On these, the whole community thrives," he said.

Educational institutions, sciences and the ideas of democracy and freedom must be stressed, the Wells High School graduate said. Citizens and educators must take a healthy interest in schools.

Dr. Miller also urged all persons to continue to learn by reading, listening and participating in discussions of major topics. Reading is especially necessary, he added.

"For most people, education stops when they become 40," he declared.

Dr. Miller was introduced by Mrs. Harry A. Comm, program chairman, following introduction of his mother, Mrs. H. A. Miller of 3rd St., Chester, and brother, Bernie Miller, of Glenmoor.

Mrs. Harold Ossman, president, presided and the invocation was given by the Rev. William Claghorn, pastor of the church.

Following his informal address, a reception honoring Dr. Miller was held with the Women's Civic Club as co-sponsor.

Quartet Unit Sets Election

Nomination of officers was held at the meeting of the East Liverpool Chapter of SPEBSQSA Monday night at the Carpenters Hall. Twenty-five attended.

The slate presented by Don Schussler, chairman of the nominating committee, includes Glen Hart for president; Dale Keddie, program vice president; Gerald Watkins, membership; Bill Thomas, secretary; Sam Wolfe, treasurer, and Dean Manning, delegate.

Nominations will be accepted from the floor at next Monday's meeting with election scheduled Oct. 22.

Hart, vice president, conducted business. Dick Smith and Dean Manning, co-chairmen, reported on the annual Christmas banquet to be held Dec. 20 at Deramo's Restaurant in Midland.

Manning will head a group attending the Johnny Appleseed District convention Friday and Saturday at Cleveland. The quartet competition is slated for Saturday night.

Bill Brooks directed a practice session in place of Glenn Woods, who is recovering from surgery at the Cleveland Clinic.

Refreshments were served by Smith. Next meeting is Monday.

Mingo Thoroughfare Dedication Planned

STEBENVILLE — Dedication of the High St-Mingo Junction Thoroughfare will be held Thursday after a luncheon at the Fort Steuben Hotel Ballroom at noon (DST).

Dr. Carl F. Goll, president of the Steubenville Area Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the luncheon.

Second Man Claimed In Lorain Car Crash

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—The death of Jimmy Johnson, 21, of Elyria in St. Joseph Hospital Monday was the second resulting from a head-on, two-car collision caused by a motorist going the wrong way on a divided street.

Police identified the wrong-way driver as Luciano Sandoval, 32, of Lorain, who was killed in the crash Sunday. Johnson was riding in a car driven by Darrell J. Gray, 21, of North Ridgeville.

Carrigg Hits Area Decline

Dr. John J. Carrigg of Steubenville, candidate for 18th District congressman in the Nov. 6 general election, hammered at the decline of the area's industry in addressing a quarterly meeting of the Columbiana County Republican "Five-Dollar" Club Monday night.

About 50 attended at the Travelers Hotel. Allen Dairymple of Wellsville, president, presided.

Carrigg asserted area steel mills are not working to capacity and their labor force has been "greatly reduced due to automation and foreign competition" and the influx in the market of domestic plastics and aluminum products.

"The pottery industry is also suffering from foreign competition, mainly cheap labor," the College of Steubenville history professor declared.

Carrigg asserted that the "greatest asset" of his opponent—Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Washington, but he does not use them to promote our district," Carrigg noted a decline of population of 14,000 in Belmont County and 4,000 in Harrison County, and said Jefferson County "stood still" during Hays' tenure.

Alliance To Top Of Class

46-0 Routing Of Massillon Is Big Boost

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Victory over Massillon's seven-time state champions appears to be a free ticket to the top spot in the Associated Press Ohio high school football poll.

Fremont Ross whipped the once terrific Tigers 8-7 in the opener and led last week's ratings by the state's sports writers. Friday night Alliance's Aviators blanked their cross-county rivals 46-0, and today Mel Knowlton's once-beaten crew heads the list.

Alliance came back from an opening game 13-8 loss to Lima Senior in a bid to repeat its 1958 state title drive. Fremont was forced to score in the final 30 seconds to defeat Findlay 14-6 last Friday, and the close shave with the one-game winners dumped the Little Giants to second.

Niles McKinley, 1961 state champ and second a week ago, slipped to fourth after nicking Youngstown Cardinal Mooney 16-6. Middletown breezed over Newark 52-14 to cling to third, but the Butler countians almost closed the gap.

Massillon, after the Alliance rout, dropped out of the Top 10, as did Kettering Fairmont, which lost 12-6 to Xenia. Moving in were Marietta (9th) and Steubenville's Big Red (10th).

From here and there:
Keep an eye on those Warren Panthers. They're in fifth place despite an opening 6-6 tie with Mansfield. Last week they whipped Lima Senior 42-0, the same team which trimmed top-spot Alliance.

Jackson lost to Logan 20-0, its first loss in 19 and its first shut-out since 1958. And Springfield North suffered its first loss in history, 28-12 to Hamilton Garfield. The new school had an 18-0-1 record up to Friday night.

Harry Wilson, 180-pound Steubenville halfback, scored five touchdowns in the 68-22 rout of Pittsburgh Schenley — giving him 11 for four games.

Just 30 years ago Alliance coach Mel Knowlton was the Massillon quarterback—and Alliance beat him 30-6 on its way to a clean season. That was Alliance's best effort against the Tigers until the whopping 46-0 win last Friday. The Aviators outgained Massillon 447 yards to 129, and halfback Chet Bryant of the winners ran for three touchdowns and 153 yards—one score coming on a 75-yarder.

Jim Byrd, 14-year-old freshman halfback from Mount Vernon, scored a 76-yard touchdown against Coshocton the first time he carried a ball in competition.

Mansfield Madison suffered its first loss, 14-12, when Columbus Watterson scored in the last 33 seconds and John Schultheis ran for the winning extra points. Madison's Joe Pearce scored on a 98-yard quarterback rollout for the first counter.

Dave Weaver of Highland Local (Morrow) scored five touchdowns—one on a pass—to beat Jeromesville. And Bellville's Carl Ruhl scored three times and gained 151 yards in eight carries against Butler.

With 48 seconds left, Loudonville led Plymouth 12-6. But Jim Hamman passed 60 yards to Phil Fletcher to tie it, and the same pair clicked for a two-point conversion. Plymouth won 14-12.

Beavers, Salem, Clippers Remain On Unbeaten List

Football takes on added significance this weekend at two district schools with annual Homecoming celebrations planned. Returning alumni will find plenty to whoop about at one school—Beaver Local—while it's an entirely different story at another—Newell.

Beaver Local draws arch-rival United for its Homecoming foe Saturday night at 8 at Williamsport, and the unbeaten Beavers will be gunning for their fifth straight victory.

At Newell, only a victory over invading South Side would appear to add a touch of success to the celebration. The Vikings have lost 22 straight games.

NEWELL will be in action Thursday night, a day earlier than usual, and the game leads off one of the lightest schedules in the district this season.

Eight games are on tap Friday, and four Saturday as district teams head into their fifth full weekend of action.

Only three have remained unbeaten thus far—Beaver Local, Salem and Columbiana—and only South Side and Newell have yet to win at least once.

Coach Jack O'Rourke's Beavers, subjected to a stern test against Burgettstown last week, came out with an 8-6 victory to hike their victory streak to seven in two years. The Beavers appear a favorite Saturday, but will appear against one of their strongest rivals in Columbiana County in United (2-2).

SALEM (4-0) travels to Marietta to take on Ohio's 9th ranked squad on Friday, and Columbiana (3-0) tackles Canfield Saturday afternoon.

After a disastrous night against Midland, Wellsville High's Tigers hit the road to New Philadelphia. The Quakers haven't won this year.

Other Friday games find Springfield of Jefferson County at Chester, Follansbee St. Anthony at New Cumberland, and Crestview at McDonald. In the Tri-County League, Lisbon is at East Palestine, and Leetonia at Minerva.

EAST Liverpool High's Potters have an open date this week, giving the squad time to savor its first taste of victory which came against New Philly.

Mays' 2 Home Runs Spark Giants; Sanford Opposes Williams In Second Game

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Not only the Dodgers' World Series hopes but Los Angeles manager Walter Alston's scalp may hang in the balance in today's second game of the National League pennant playoff between the Dodgers and the Giants of San Francisco.

There have been backhand mutterings by people close to the Dodgers that Alston's continued association with the club depends upon the team's finish. If the Dodgers win the pennant, Alston stays, is the word. If they lose, he loses, too.

If this is true, Alston may be packing Wednesday. The shocking 8-0 defeat in San Francisco in the playoff opener Monday threw the slump-ridden Dodgers into their worst predicament of the year in what must be regarded as the biggest foldup in modern history.

It is not only that the Dodgers have lost 11 of their last 14, five in a row. It is not only that they've skidded from four games in front to one game behind in nine days. But it is the ease with which enemy pitchers have been able to contain their best hitters.

The Dodgers have not scored in the last 30 innings. They've managed only 10 hits off Ernie Broglio and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals and Billy Pierce of the Giants in the last three games.

If the Dodgers aren't dead, they're no great ad for the living. They resemble a tired, beaten crew, hardly able to hang on until it's over. They were beaten in the very first inning Monday when Willie Mays stroked the first of his two home runs, a two-run smash off starter and loser Sandy Koufax.

That was all the advantage Pierce needed. He permitted only three hits, two by pinch hitters and did not allow a man past second base as he registered his 16th victory of the season. It was the Giants' seventh victory in the last eight meetings with the Dodgers.

Alston still talks in terms of winning, still insisting that his charges are due to break out of their batting slump.

For the second of the best-of-three series, Alston named Stan Williams, a mediocre right-hander with a 13-12 record to oppose Jack Sanford the Giants' 24-game winner. Alston said he might switch to Don Drysdale, his 25-game winner.

The Dodger brass scoffs at the idea that Alston's job is on the line. Not so long ago, Buzzie Bavasi, the general manager, said: "Winning or losing will have no bearing on whether Alston stays or not."

"If it was a veteran club," said Alston, "I could see where kicking them in the behind and giving them hell might do some good. But with this club, I don't think you ought to scare the kids any worse than they are."

'What Are They Saving Me For,' Snorts Drysdale

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When Don Drysdale, the Los Angeles Dodgers' 25-game winner, learned he was not going to start today's do-or-die National League playoff game against the San Francisco Giants, he snorted.

"What the hell, are they saving me for the first spring exhibition game?"

Drysdale, who has worked often in the stretch drive, obviously expected to get the call. The Dodgers were one down in the best-of-three series after losing Monday's game to the Giants 8-0.

Instead of Drysdale, Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston said he planned to start Stan Williams, an in-and-out with a 13-12 record, a 4.51 earned run average and only four complete games in 28 starts. Right-hander Jack Sanford is set for the Giants.

Alston said he'd prefer to hold Drysdale for another day so the big right-hander would be more rested.

"What," said Drysdale shaking his head, "would be wrong with coming back with Johnny Podres in the third game?"

Alston said there was a slight chance he might change his mind about pitching Williams.

"But I doubt it," he volunteered. "I could take a chance and pitch Drysdale with two days rest, but he pitched hard his last time out."

"Now we're in a position where we have to win two games. So if I don't use Williams today, I'd have to use him or Pete Richert (a rookie) in the third game anyway. It's the same pitchers any way you look at it."

If Drysdale started today and Podres Wednesday, they'd both be pitching with only two days' rest. But that seems to be the way Drysdale wants it.

Buckeyes Slip By 'Bama To Take Over First Spot

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

After taking a back seat for just one week, Ohio State was back in the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press football poll today.

The power-packed Buckeyes were voted the top team in the nation in the AP pre-season poll, but when Alabama, the defending champion, won its first game convincingly, the sports writers and sportscasters who do the voting had some second thoughts.

They sent the Crimson Tide, the defending national champions, to the top in the first of the regular-season polls.

But after Ohio State's crushing 41-7 victory over North Carolina in its opener last Saturday, the Buckeyes edged back into first place with 335 votes to 329 for Alabama, which crushed Tulane, 44-6.

The Crimson Tide actually compiled more first place votes than Ohio State—19 to 18—but the Buckeyes had more general support. The votes are awarded on a basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second and so on down the list.

No other team really came close to the two front-runners. Texas held on to the No. 3 spot with 266 points and Penn State continued at No. 4 with 227 points. Louisiana State, rated one of Alabama's main rivals for the Southeastern Conference championship, tumbled out of the top ten along with Michigan State and Missouri.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses:

	Points
1. Ohio State (18)	335
2. Alabama (19)	329
3. Texas (3)	266
4. Penn State	227
5. Georgia Tech	178
6. Southern California	125
7. Mississippi	107
8. Washington	71

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Why don't radio stations play soothing music after 11 or 12 o'clock? I wonder if they know that most people who listen to radio programs after midnight are insomniacs? We are dying to go to sleep and this jive does not allow sleeping.

I would most appreciate soft music which is most relaxing, instead of this high powered "diddlewah," which put us on edge. I am wondering if they realize that when we are calmed down, we even enjoy those advertisement plugs!

Anyway you can help us who are up at midnight would be most appreciated. We all have transistors! Transistors are taken to our bedsides, but what good are they when they play unsoothing music?

TIED

DEAR HELOISE: I don't want to shock any of the women who read this column, but I would like them to know that my husband is a lawyer and he says that when a fabric is called "no iron," that's one subject, but when it says "drip dry," that drip dry means exactly what it says.

This type of article must not be wrong at all, because... the weight of the water is what pulls it and makes it smooth.

The gist of it all is that legally a drip dry is something that will drip dry. Meaning: anything that water will drip off of will eventually drip dry!

Just like your cup and saucer.

LAWYER'S WIFE

DEAR HELOISE: When rice has burned, place a piece of fresh white bread crust—I usually use the heel—on top of the rice and cover the pot again.

Within a few minutes the scorched taste will disappear. Later just remove the bread.

ELLEN

DEAR HELOISE: To keep macaroni from boiling over, I usually put a tablespoon or so of shortening in the water.

ANN

DEAR HELOISE: Here is the greatest yet... and I just discovered it.

Lipstick stains on napkins come right off if glycerine is applied. Rub this into the stain and let it stand a minute longer. Then wash as usual.

MRS. D. H.

DEAR HELOISE: Never put white nylon garments in your wash with a colored garment. Even though the clothes are fast colored, the static electricity in the nylon draws the colors.

White nylon should be washed with white clothes only.

HELEN SHEARD

DEAR HELOISE: Ever tried putting a caramel candy in a cup of hot tea? It's excellent! Not only does it give a little different taste to the tea, but it takes the place of the cream which you ordinarily add.

Pierce Likes Candlestick, Has 12-0 Mark At Home

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There's no place like home to Billy Pierce, the San Francisco Giants' left-handed lefthander from the American League.

He mopped up the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-0 in Monday's National League playoff opener at San Francisco.

Pierce probably won't be used in Dodger Stadium, and from the looks of his road record it's just as well. At Candlestick Park, he is a different pitcher.

"That's a wonderful ball park," he has said all year, and Monday he ran his record there to 12-0. On the road, he is only 4-6.

"I like the spaces there, and this ball club gets me lots of

"That's as great a ball game as I've ever been involved in, and certainly one of the most important of my whole career," Pierce spent a year with Detroit and 13 with the Chicago White Sox before coming to the Giants last winter.

Robinson To Probably Play In 1963

CINCINNATI (AP)—It seems a fairly safe bet that Frank Robinson will be back in the Cincinnati Reds' lineup next spring.

Robinson had a brief talk with owner-general manager Bill DeWitt Monday and when it was over, DeWitt announced:

DeWitt said he and the 27-year-old outfielder agreed to have another talk later.

In presenting the legislation, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper advised Council it was made up principally of "book-keeping" items, including transfers from one fund to another within departments.

For instance, $2,000 was appropriated for a new piece of equipment called a banninutor shredder for the sewage treatment plant. Previously, the same amount had been appropriated from the sewage fund. The new legislation changes the source from which the funds will be utilized—the sewage replacement and improvement fund. The shredder grinds up solids flowing into the treatment plant.

In the water department, the appropriations are: Office furniture and fixtures, $450; pipe extensions, $1,500; reservoir repair, $3,000; truck purchase, fund, $1,357; claims and damages, $500; incidentals, $100 and Public Employee Retirement System (PER), $2,416.

Other items are: Treasurer's stationery, $100; Health Department, $406; Sewer Revenue Fund PER, $677; Street Department PER, $900; General Fund PER, $644; legal advertising, $249, and fire department uniform fund, $50.

In only spot action in preseason games, Green gained 299 yards on nine kickoff returns and 93 yards on five punt runbacks. The 6-foot-2, 205-pounder also caught five passes for 60 yards and carried nine times for 33 yards.

Brown said whether Jim Ninowski would remain the starting quarterback depends on his physical condition.

"Jim didn't seem to have his normal agility (against Philadelphia Sunday) so it may have been a mistake trying to play him," Brown explained. "I feel that injured knee must have been a factor. He was sub-par physically."

"Nino was accurate, a fine passer during the exhibitions. I still have confidence in him."

Argentine Boxer Has Chance For Consciousness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavarrante is in the eleventh day of a coma that followed his knockout by Johnny Riggins of San Francisco, but there are indications he may regain consciousness.

Dr. DeWitt Fox, neurosurgeon in charge of Lavarrante's case, said the 25-year-old boxer's pupils are beginning to react slightly, whereas previously they were fixed. He said this is an indication that the pressure in the mid-brain area, adjacent to the so-called sleep area, is reducing.

"It should not be too long before further signs of consciousness appear," said Dr. Fox. "Just how long, we can't predict, but we hope in days, and not weeks."

In presenting the legislation, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper advised Council it was made up principally of "book-keeping" items, including transfers from one fund to another within departments.

For instance, $2,000 was appropriated for a new piece of equipment called a banninutor shredder for the sewage treatment plant. Previously, the same amount had been appropriated from the sewage fund. The new legislation changes the source from which the funds will be utilized—the sewage replacement and improvement fund. The shredder grinds up solids flowing into the treatment plant.

In the water department, the appropriations are: Office furniture and fixtures, $450; pipe extensions, $1,500; reservoir repair, $3,000; truck purchase, fund, $1,357; claims and damages, $500; incidentals, $100 and Public Employee Retirement System (PER), $2,416.

Other items are: Treasurer's stationery, $100; Health Department, $406; Sewer Revenue Fund PER, $677; Street Department PER, $900; General Fund PER, $644; legal advertising, $249, and fire department uniform fund, $50.

OFF THE RECORD

Junior Editors Quiz on DOLLS

QUESTION: When did dolls first originate?

ANSWER: We can't answer this exactly because the children of the earliest men may have made dolls of sticks and bits of grass, and left no record of them. We do know that the Egyptians of 3000 years ago made a great many dolls. They put them in graves with the idea that the people who had died might have company in the after life. Greek and Roman children had dolls, often made of clay. These they would keep until just before they were married, when they would leave them on the altars of certain temples. The Chinese and Japanese have made wonderful dolls for a long time. A Japanese girl is given a pair of dolls when she is born and many more after that, and she treats them with the greatest care and takes them to her husband's house when she gets married. We illustrate one of the oldest American dolls, Letitia Penn, brought over by William Penn in 1699. Less elegant dolls, but ones we believe the children loved even better, were the dolls made of rags in the houses of our earliest settlers. We show a rag doll of the Pilgrim period. The faces would be drawn with charcoal or painted with pokeberry juice. Each country has its own dolls dressed in its own costumes. We'd like to show them all to you, if only we had the room.

FOR YOU TO DO: It's fun to make new dolls out of the materials you find around home. Make a pioneer doll, for instance. The Indians used corn husks, tied together. An old stocking, cut up and sewed together, makes a wonderful doll. Other dolls can be made by stringing corks. Make paper dolls, then bend so they sit down and lift their arms.

Judy Post of Midland Park, N. J., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Oct. 2, the 275th day of 1962. There are 90 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this day in 1918, the famed Lost Battalion of World War I fame was surrounded by German forces and isolated for six days.

On this date:
In 1798, the Cherokee Indians, by treaty, permitted passage through their lands in Tennessee to travelers on their way to Kentucky through the Cumberland Gap.
In 1865, Gen. Robert E. Lee became president of Washington and Lee University.

In 1889, the first Pan-American Conference opened in Washington, D. C.
In 1945, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters in Frankfurt, Germany, announced the removal of Gen. George Patton as commander of the U.S. 3rd Army.

Today's birthday: Actor Bud Abbott is 64.
Thought for today: They lard their lean books with the fat of others' works—Robert Burton.
Note to brides: Browning meat and poultry, a process often called for before braising or baking, helps to develop flavor.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Does a 23-year-old son who is a college graduate have the right to say "Shut up" to his mother when she asks him to put $2 worth of gas in the car? Frank doesn't even have to pay for the gas. He has a credit card which his dad pays for.

We have a '62 convertible and Frank can use it whenever he wishes. I get very annoyed when he brings the car back time after time with the needle on empty. His dad and I often keep our fingers crossed until we make it to the filling station.

Frank knows I get nervous when he drives fast and races cars away from the stop lights. Whenever he sees a sign which says "slow" he speeds up just to frighten me. If I say anything he makes an insulting remark.

Just what is a 23-year-old son trying to prove when he behaves this way? — ONLY HIS MOTHER.

Dear Only: Frank didn't suddenly begin talking, or behaving, this way. I'll wager he was a mouthy kid in knee-pants—which was the time to have investigated his hostility.

This is a sad (and old) story. The best thing you can do now is insist that your son stand on his own two feet and be completely independent of you and his father. He had been shamefully coddled and his resentment and lack of self-respect is popping out all over.

House Guest

Dear Ann: This is a delicate situation and I need to know how to handle it.

My husband's brother lost his wife about five months ago. They had no children and were a devoted couple.

We've done our best to fill his lonely hours. He's here for dinner about five nights a week. We take him almost everywhere with us.

The problem is not the evenings but the days. This brother-in-law owns his own business and

Veterans Day, Thanksgiving Services Planned By Pastors

Plans for Veterans Day and Thanksgiving services were discussed at a meeting of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association Monday at the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The Veterans' Day service will be held Nov. 11 at the First Church of the Nazarene, of which the Rev. James Hunton is pastor. Final plans will be announced later.

The Rev. D. R. Salisbury Jr., rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, will be the speaker at the union Thanksgiving service at the Calvary Methodist Church. The Rev. Irwin Jennings, host pastor, will be in charge.

It was decided not to hold a community Reformation Sunday service this year.

The association voted unanimously to establish the chaplaincy at City Hospital on a permanent basis and the Rev. Joseph H. Varner will continue as chaplain. Churches of East Liverpool will be asked to support the program by contributing at least 10 cents per active resident member per year.

The association said it encourages churches who are interested in the UNICEF program to receive funds; however, the association will not be responsible for gathering or disbursing funds. The congregations interested in CROP are also encouraged to gather funds. The two programs will be co-ordinated by the Rev. Russell Mase, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church. Churches are to inform Rev. Mase as to which plan they are endorsing after which he will see that they are assigned to certain areas not to conflict with each other and to avoid duplication of receiving contributions for either program.

Acting Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne discussed Fire Prevention Week, which opens Sunday. He explained the 1-mill fire levy which will be up for renewal at the Nov. 6 general election. Supt. Ralph Betts explained the school levies on the ballot—3 mills as a renewal and 2 mills additional.

Business was conducted by Rev. Mase, vice president, in the absence of John N. Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, president.

Devotions were led by the Rev. Charles W. Kampmeyer, host pastor.

Upset Stomachs Seen 'Best Clue' In Entry's Probe

A severe case of upset stomach may prove the best clue to guide police in their search for intruders who looted two refreshment stands at Patterson Field over the weekend.

In an entry reported to the department shortly before noon yesterday, the loot was listed as: eight dozen packages of potato chips, 10 dozen candy bars, six dozen packages of chewing gum, eight cases of soft drinks and 13 cases of empty bottles. The merchandise was listed as property of the Board of Education.

Meanwhile, an apparent attempted burglary was investigated Monday at Thrifty City, 1571 Pennsylvania Ave. Nancy DeSarro, an employee, told police a lock was removed from a door on the west side of the store sometime over the weekend.

Police said it could not be determined immediately if anything was missing. Patrolman Orin C. Smith investigated.
